DAY-1-REPORT

Name of Event: Farmers Awareness on Plantation, Cultivation, Pesticides & Fertilization

Date of Event: 01-02-2024

Place of Event: Vinjanampadu

On 01-02-2024 Camp Inauguration

Special Camp inauguration was a significant event attended by several key persons including the Principal, Director, Panchayati Sarpanch and Panchayati officers. During the inauguration, the Principal likely emphasized the importance of community service and the role NSS plays in fostering social responsibility among students. The Director may have highlighted the objectives and expectations for the camp, stressing the need for active participation and meaningful contributions from the volunteers. The Panchayati Sarpanch probably underscored the local community's support for the initiative and encouraged collaboration between the NSS volunteers and the community members. The inauguration likely served to inspire and motivate the participants while setting the tone for a successful and impactful NSS Special Camp.

After The Camp inauguration as per event the scheduled National Service Scheme (NSS) organized a comprehensive Agriculture related campaign in Vinjanampadu with the aim to improve Plantations, cultivation, pesticides, fertilization.

In recent years, agricultural practices have undergone significant transformations due to technological advancements, climate change, and evolving consumer preferences. Among these changes, increasing awareness among farmers regarding plantation cultivation, pesticide usage, and fertilization has become paramount. This report aims to assess the current status of farmer awareness in these domains and suggest strategies for enhancement.

Current State of Farmer Awareness: Plantation Cultivation: Many farmers are familiar with traditional cultivation methods but may lack awareness of modern techniques such as precision farming, crop rotation, and intercropping.

Pesticides: Awareness of pesticide types, proper application methods, and potential environmental and health hazards varies widely among farmers. Some may rely heavily on chemical pesticides without considering alternatives or safety measures.

Fertilization: While most farmers understand the importance of fertilizers for soil fertility and crop yield, there is a need for greater knowledge regarding nutrient management, soil testing, and organic alternatives.

Challenges and Barriers: Limited Access to Information: Farmers in remote areas or with limited resources may struggle to access educational materials, workshops, or training programs.

DAY-3-REPORT

Name of Event: Awareness on Cyber Security and UPI Transactions...Etc

Date of Event: 03-02-2024

Place of Event: Vinjanampadu

On 03-02-2024 The National Service Scheme (NSS) organized a campaign in “ Vinjanampadu” village to bring awareness and enrich knowledge of village people by launching an effective program which mainly focuses on “CYBER SECURITY” that is beneficial and sometimes dangerous too in real time scenario.

The main objective of NSS initiative towards “CYBER SECURITY” is, to let people know about huge scams and frauds that are taking place these days. We engaged with village people in a friendly manner and explained about cyber criminals and malicious attacks that are taking place through real life examples with detailed information. NSS volunteers explained clearly about “Online Scammers” to the people. Online Scammers are those who talks nicely and takes personal information such as bank credentials from opposite people through blackmailing them like: “I WILL LEAK OUR PERSONAL CHATS etc. (which is commonly called as “Social Engineering”)

We expound about 3 major types of hackers, so that village people can get some basic idea:

BLACK HAT HACKER – The one who performs illegal activities and crack systems.

WHITE HAT HACKER – The one who performs only ethical activities that are completely legal and ethical.

GAMING HACKER – The one who target online gamers and performs hacking.

BLUE HAT HACKER – These are kind of “REVENGE SEEKERS” who performs hacking for personal egos and revenges.

NSS volunteers explained people about basic types of cyber-attacks that are hugely taking place now-a-days, so that village people can be aware of such type of frauds:

PHISHING - It is an attack where an attacker sends the fake emails to people which includes:

EX: “YOU WON A LOTTERY AMOUNT OF $20,000”, PLEASE SEND YOUR ACCOUNT DETAILS TO WITHDRAW THE CASH PRICE.

National Service Scheme (NSS) Cell
JNTUK- SPECIAL CAMP | A.Y:2023-2024

Unit Code: 90214715

SPOOFING – It is an attack where an attacker performs hacking using voice changer apps and some resources, so that he can earn trust of opposite person (where opposite person believes it as a familiar voice and got call from a trusted source) and asks for personal and sensitive data, bank details etc.

With this program, NSS mainly encouraged village people to know about online scams and frauds in a very detailed manner with live examples.

The main objective of the NSS initiative towards “UPI TRANSACTIONS” is to let people know about Firstly, we wanted to show people in the village how to use UPI payments. Secondly, we aimed to explain why using UPI is beneficial. Thirdly, we were there to teach the locals how to do digital payments themselves. As NSS volunteers, we explained UPI payments in three simple steps which can easily be understood by the people in the village.

Teaching UPI Payments:

We spent time explaining how to use phones to send money instantly through UPI. We showed them how to download and use apps that help with these transactions. We explained each step in a clear and easy way, making sure everyone understood. From adding bank accounts to making payments securely, we made sure they were comfortable with the process.

Explaining Benefits of UPI:

We talked about why using UPI is a good idea. We highlighted its advantages, like how it lets you send money quickly to anyone, anytime, without needing to go to a bank. We also mentioned that it's safe and doesn't cost much for transactions. Overall, we wanted to show how UPI can make handling money simpler and more convenient for them.

Training on Digital Payments:

Beyond just UPI, we showed them other ways to handle money digitally. We introduced them to mobile wallets and online banking, explaining how these tools can also make their lives easier. We provided hands-on training, letting them try out these methods themselves. By the end, they were more confident in using various digital payment options for their day-to-day transactions.

As the NSS team, we felt happy knowing we helped the people in Vinjanampadu learn about UPI payments. Talking to them was great, and we think our work will make a difference in how they handle money. We're excited to keep helping them and see how they use digital payments in their lives.

DAY-6-REPORT

Name of Event: Seasonal Disease Awareness Program & Women Empowerment

Date of Event: 06-02-2024

Place of Event: Vinjanampadu

On 06-02-2024, National Service Scheme (NSS) has organized a campaign in “Vinjanampadu” village in order to bring awareness to the villagers on “SEASONAL DISEASES”. As the villagers are been facing different kinds of problems in different seasons. NSS team had guided them the necessary precautions to be taken and to be aware among themselves without any health hazards.

The main goal for the NSS team is raise awareness for the people about the different preventive measures that should be taken and explained the steps to be followed for not attaching of the diseases.

We, NSS volunteers engaged with village people in a friendly manner and explained them in a clear way that they should take care of their health in a proper way and should follow some measures like vaccination, good hygiene practices avoiding close contact with sick individuals etc....and also explained clearly about the safety precautions to be followed and empowered the villagers with knowledge on early symptoms and when to seek medical assistance and taught them the steps to manage allergies which can help to reduce the risk of seasonal diseases.

NSS volunteers have been interacted to the villagers and explained about the seasonal diseases such as Dengue fever, Malaria, Chikungunya and Common cold. The major impact has been increased the awareness levels among villagers regarding the symptoms and preventive measures of seasonal diseases which created a positive behavioural change in their hygiene practices and empowered the community members to take proactive measures in safeguarding their health and that of their families.

National Service Scheme (NSS) Cell

We, NSS team had given awareness on some of the diseases by which the village people are facing a lot of problems

1. Influenza (Flu): In temperate regions, flu season typically occurs during the fall and winter months. The flu virus thrives in colder temperatures and can spread easily in indoor environments where people are in close contact.
2. Common Cold: Like the flu, the common cold is more prevalent during the colder months. Rhinoviruses, which cause the majority of colds, spread more easily in lower temperatures.
3. Seasonal Allergies: Allergic rhinitis, commonly known as hay fever, is often triggered by pollen from trees, grasses, and weeds. Pollen levels tend to be higher in the spring and fall, leading to increased allergy symptoms during these seasons.
4. Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV): RSV infections, which can cause severe respiratory illness in young children and older adults, often peak in the fall and winter months.
5. Norovirus: This highly contagious virus, which causes gastrointestinal illness, tends to peak during the winter months. Cold weather may encourage people to stay indoors and in close contact with others, facilitating the spread of the virus.
6. Dengue Fever: Dengue fever is more common in tropical and subtropical regions, where it tends to peak during the rainy season when mosquito populations are higher.

We may conclude that the Seasonal Diseases Awareness Campaign which had been undertaken by the NSS team has played a vital role in equipping the villagers with knowledge and resources to combat prevalent health challenges. Moving forward, sustained efforts and community engagement will be essential in ensuring a healthier and resilient village population.

On the same day afternoon National Service Scheme (NSS) has organized a campaign in "Vinjanampadu" village in order to bring awareness to the villagers on women empowerment

They emphasized the importance of providing equal opportunities for women in education, employment, and decision-making roles. Many villagers highlighted the significant contributions women make to their families and communities and stressed the need to recognize and value their efforts. They discussed various ways to empower women, including providing access to skill development programs, promoting entrepreneurship, and ensuring their participation in local governance. Overall, the villagers conveyed a collective commitment to promoting gender equality and empowering women to lead fulfilling and dignified lives.
